Tribute to Avis Axelson by Fran Claggett

My first visit to Avis' home in El Cerrito is etched in my vision. It was 1962 and my partner Madge Holland and I had just bought an Afghan Hound puppy, knowing nothing about the breed except that we loved their beauty. We took our puppy to Santa Barbara as we had never even been to a dog show, and everyone who met us said, "Oh, you are from El Cerrito. You must know Avis Axelson." We didn't, but it turned out, she lived about a half mile up the hill from us. Up we went, and there, situated strategically on the hill behind her house, up above a beautiful stone wall, were twelve, TWELVE gorgeous Afghan Hounds. We were both speechless. Then, after our introduction to the Ghahyl Gang, as she called them, we met Avis.

Avis grew up in New York, and always maintained a kind of Eastern formality about her. In her younger days, she loved to entertain on her beautiful outdoor patio, surrounded by JonJon, Cece, and ten other beauties. Occasionally, her beloved sister Helen would visit from Texas, and later, her remaining relatives—two nephews, a niece, and their families—would come to visit. Madge and I met her family when they visited, and Avis always asked Madge to buy presents for the newborns as they arrived. Avis became increasingly immobile as the results of a teenage automobile accident resulted in her reliance on a wheelchair for many years. Avis always valued her family, but she could not leave California as they urged her to do. Since Avis's death, I have become closer to her East Coast family, all of whom have made generous contributions to Avis' favorite charity, Canine Companions for Independence.

During the fifty--three years that Madge and I knew Avis, we learned about the breed; we met Kay Finch and came to understand how one can totally lose one's heart to these dogs. Avis and Kay were good friends, and Avis's dogs were all from the Crown Crest line. We met other Afghan Hound enthusiasts, and began to enter our own dogs in shows. Avis was our first tutor, and through her we met Betsy Hufnagel, whose Cavu kennel name was on four of our own champions. Betsy's beautiful Justine (whom I actually named for Avis as one of the Alexandria Quartet) gave us, down the line, our incomparable Vasudeva, Lark, Wicca, Holden, Gogi, Murphy, and Phoebe. She introduced us to Gail Kramer, who became our great friend and showed our dogs for us. Through Avis, we met Betty Richards, and Betty Stites, Cathy Lurson, Hobie and Scott, and so many other wonderful owners and lovers of Afghan Hounds.

Avis, an administrative nurse for the state, retired early and, after a few years, moved with her partner Doris Sterling to Sonoma County. Her love for the breed was much in evidence in her homes. From a charming Afghan Hound umbrella stand, to towels with classic Afghan Hounds on them, to incredible art pieces—a bronze Rudiki by Kay Finch, a bronze of two running Afghan Hounds by Debbie Engle, a tall Kay Finch ceramic hound, and innumerable smaller art pieces—Avis paid tribute to her chosen breed.

When Avis moved to the Oakmont community of Santa Rosa, and her last Afghan Hound, Skye, died of old age, she was unable to care for another hound. She wouldn't consider a smaller dog or a cat; if she couldn't have an Afghan Hound, she would have no dog at all. It was her greatest lament during her last years, and one that she uttered on our every (frequent) visit. During her last years, after the loss of Doris, she continued to live alone, extremely independent as she had always been. Madge Holland was her lifeline, phoning or visiting several times a week until she herself was unable to. One of Madge's last statements to me, just a day before her death last October, was, "You will still take care of Avis, won't you?" Of course she knew I would, but it was Madge who had Avis' heart, and she managed to make it to the memorial celebration for Madge.

Avis died in May, 2015, at 98, still pining for another Afghan Hound. She would have been ecstatic to know that she was being honored by having her favorite Kay Finch Afghan Hound ceramic sculpture at the National show.

ROBIN PUNSALAN

Wow! After months of planning all the work has finally come to fruition and we are about to embark on the 80th AHCA National Specialty and, the event which is dear to my heart, the Art Auction. If you are reading this, you are more than likely standing in scenic Rhode Island readying yourself for a feast of the eyes in what is an incredible collection of Afghan Hound artwork, depicted in this beautiful catalog.

Thank you to our fearless leaders Amy Mero and Erica Jantos for always being available to answer questions, and to help resolve many issues that, as a first time chair of this important event, I encountered. Ken Amos sat in on many long text message strings, and I am grateful for his patience and for his sage advice as an avid collector. Jason Taylor assisted greatly in the background as well and will take the reins tonight as Art Auctioneer Extraordinaire! Where would I be without the talents of Toni Richmond and her husband Ken Douthit, who committed countless hours of their time and staff time (thank you Shawna) to produce, publish, and donate this fabulous catalog. Toni was there throughout the process to help me solidify my vision for displaying the immense collection.

Of course an art auction wouldn't be what it is without the generosity of the vendors and many artists who donated so many incredible pieces, some creating pieces especially for this event. Others reached into their treasure chest for that just right piece to give. Add to that the collectors who gave so willingly of their prized possessions, and you have one fine assembly of some of the most unique and prized artwork representing our beloved Afghan Hound to be assembled in many years.

After tonight I will have many more people to thank, those of you who reached deep into your pockets and supported the AHCA by purchasing those special pieces to add to your collections.

Again, Thank You one and all! I couldn't have done it without you.

Enjoy

Lex Robertson, Art Auction Chairman

JULIE HAMLIN LUTHER

This is an approximately 4 ft tall, hand crafted wooden lighthouse that has been turned into a masterful, whimsical one of a kind piece of collectible artwork. Artist Julie Hamlin Luther surprised us all with her creative vision and it is now inhabited by Afghan Hounds! What could be finer? It was painted with acrylics and coated in polyurethane. There is a solar light attachment for the top, if one desires a lit effect. It is recommended that this be displayed indoors or in a protected area, such as a covered, dry porch. Let your imagination run wild!
